Speaker Profiles

Sara Hey – Bob Clements International

Keynote Presenter

Energetic, personable, and competitive are just a few adjectives that describe Sara Hey, VP of Business Development at Bob Clements International.

In 2011, Sara joined the BCI team to help build social media and marketing efforts. Soon after, she began to take on the management of special events for BCI. As a keynote speaker and presenter at National Meetings, and expos, Sara helps owners and managers discover and implement growth strategies in every department.

In addition to conducting webinars and traveling to national events, Sara works with key manufacturers and leads BCI's product development. Working with manufacturers with dealer channels, she oversees the development of customized training programs for their dealers. And in keeping with the mission of BCI, she consistently works to create new training materials and programs that can be delivered to dealers in affordable and accessible ways.

Sara is an engaging and commanding speaker and will share proven ways to help you move your business forward to create a strong and profitable dealership.

Sara graduated from North Park University, earning a degree in Psychology. After living in Chicago for several years, she and her husband, Austin, now reside in Liberty, Missouri, with their three daughters. Sara likes to run, read, and spend time with her family in her spare time.

Ryan Miller – The Cleveland Research Group

As a Market Research Associate for Cleveland Research Company specializing in industry trends among home centers, homebuilders, building products, and new construction industry. Prior to joining CRC, Ryan interned with J.P. Morgan as an Operations Analyst supporting data management, client reporting, trade processes, and problem resolution.

Dave Johnson – Constellation Dealership Group

Dave has a long history of working directly with manufacturers and dealers to identify areas for business improvement. His goals are to bring time saving integrations and performance reporting to the OPE industry providing better visibility on important key performance indicators and streamlining processes for the dealer. Dave's focus is on dealer profitability and his commitment to the industry has won him the American Honda Premier Partner award as well as the recognition as a valuable business partner from several manufacturers and professional organizations.

Don Miller – Constellation Dealership Group

Don Miller is a Senior Consultant for Constellation and has a 30-year history of working with hundreds of dealers across the nation. Don has served as a General Manager, Sales Manager, F&I Manager and Trainer with several major auto dealerships. For the last 20 years Don has been providing consulting, training, and analytical services to dealers across the nation. During that time, he has developed some impressive custom data analytics tools and reports that have help dealers spot trends and stay ahead of the curve. Don is an expert at using data to analyze and solve industry problems. He is constantly visiting dealers in the RV, Marine, Tractor and OPE markets. This gives Don a very unique insight on the key performance indicators dealers should be watching.

Grant Farnsworth – The Farnsworth Group

The Farnsworth Group has conducted customized research for Fortune 100 companies to start-ups that provides data-based insights to help them improve strategies related to their customer, product, brand, and overall market. For over 15 years, Grant has consulted on qualitative and quantitative research projects for a variety of manufacturers and retailers in the building products and home improvement industry.

Grant continues to gain industry knowledge through efforts with organizations like Harvard's Joint Center for Housing and the Home Improvement Research Institute. As a long time drummer, Grant still practices music. His creativity is an often-utilized resource in the company and with clients.

Evan Barrington – TraQline

Dr. Barrington works with a diverse set of clients in various durable goods industries, including appliances, transportation, consumer durables, and housing. He has over thirty years of experience in forecasting and industry analysis and is retained by the OPEI to work with their members of the Market Statistics Committee.

Dr. Barrington earned his Ph.D. in Economics at MIT and his undergraduate degree at Brigham Young University. Dr. Barrington has served as a member of the Board of Directors of the Kentucky Economics Association, is a former Board Member of the National Association for Business Economics, and is a member of the National Business Economic Issues Council.

Dan Mustico – Outdoor Power Equipment Institute

In his current role, Dan manages the association's efforts to provide an industry voice on public policy matters before Federal, state, and foreign governments. Included in these efforts are issues before both legislators and regulators involving environmental protection, product safety, product standards, labor & workforce, chemicals, and foreign trade. Dan also manages OPEI's efforts to collect and forecast industry market data. Prior to 2011, Dan spent 20 years representing the tire & elastomer industries working for the Washington-based Rubber Manufacturers Association. Originally from upstate New York, Dan attended the State University of New York at Cortland. Dan currently lives in Cabin John, Maryland with his wife Kerry and twins Sam and Claire.
